Verse 1

Oh [G7]Danny [C]boy, the pipes, the [C7]pipes are [F]calling
From [Fm]glen to [C]glen, and [Am]down the [D7]mountain [G7]side.
The [G7]summer's [C]gone, and [C7]all the roses [F]falling,
It's [C]you, it's [Am]you must [G7]go and [F]I must [C]bide.
But [G]come ye [F]back when [C]summer's in the [F]meadow,
Or [G]when the [C]valley's [Am]hushed and [D7]white with [G]snow,
It's [C]I'll be [C7]here in [F]sunshine or in [Fm]shadow,
Oh [C]Danny [Am]boy, oh [F]Danny [G7]boy, I love you [C]so!

Verse 2

But [G7]when ye [C]come, and [C7]all the flowers are [F]dying,
If [Fm]I am [C]dead, as [Am]dead I [D7]well may [G7]be,
Ye'll [G7]come and [C]find the [C7]place where I am [F]lying,
And [C]kneel and [Am]say an [G7]Ave [F]there for [C]me.
And [G]I shall [F]hear, though [C]soft you tread a[F]bove me,
And [G]all my [C]grave will [Am]warmer, [D7]sweeter [G]be,
For [C]you will [C7]bend and [F]tell me that you [Fm]love me,
And [C]I shall [Am]sleep in [F]peace until you [G7]come to [C]me!
